Emerald Garden, a Chinese restaurant in Calgary, has recently changed management and ownership, leading to mixed reviews from customers. Some diners expressed disappointment in the new menu items, with reports of bland vegetables, soggy rice, and uncooked spring rolls. However, there were also positive comments about dishes like Poached Chicken in Spicy Sauce and Lemon Chicken, which were flavorful and well-prepared. The staff at Emerald Garden received praise for their excellent service, with fast and friendly interactions. Despite some inconsistencies in food quality, the restaurant continues to attract a loyal following thanks to its authentic Chinese cuisine and busy, bustling atmosphere. Reservations are recommended due to the restaurant's popularity, though parking can be a challenge during peak times. Overall, Emerald Garden presents a mix of experiences for diners, from disappointing new dishes to well-executed classics, making it a destination worth trying for those craving Chinese food in Calgary.
