The menu of Woon Lee Inn from North Vancouver comprises about 170 different menus and drinks. On average you pay about CA$24 for a dish / drink. The New Woon Lee restaurant has received mixed reviews from long-time customers. Many have expressed disappointment in the decline of food quality and service since the change in ownership. Issues such as bland soup, inedible dishes, and tasteless meals have left some patrons searching for better Chinese restaurants. However, there are still positive reviews highlighting delicious dishes like the Mongolian beef and General Pau chicken, as well as the friendly service and generous portion sizes. Overall, the New Woon Lee seems to have lost some of its charm and consistency, causing loyal customers to reconsider their dining options.
