We were drawn by the high ratings for the food, with the expectation that the decor might be a bit odd or run down. They've obviously redone the dining room since those reviews because the restaurant is neat, clean and tastefully decorated. Nothing fancy, but very pleasant. And the food was very, very good. The gyoza were so moist and delicious we ordered more. Miso Lamb Chops were three perfectly grilled chops, rare... read more. In beautiful weather you can even have something in the outdoor area. What User doesn't like about Bistro Isakaya:

The food at Isakaya has always been pretty good. Really like the succulent gyoza especially. Properly cooked veal liver. Black cod a stand out. But the service is frankly weird and shabby. The personalities of the waiting staff really shine through, so some are friendly...and others really off-hand, but it makes for a less than welcoming experience. The dining room is in desperate need of refurbishment, and the toile... read more. With the extensive diversity of coffee and tea specialties, a visit to Bistro Isakaya becomes even more attractive, among the specialties of this place are especially the Sushi and Inside-Out. The Asian fusion cuisine is also an important part of Bistro Isakaya. Anyone who finds the normal and generally known menus too boring should approach with a willingness to experiment and try some exciting combination of ingredients taste, and it's made with lots of fresh vegetables, fish and meat, easily digestible Japanese menus prepared.
