On this webpage, you can find the complete menu of Comptoir 21 from Montréal. Currently, there are 32 courses and drinks available. Located in Montreal, this restaurant offers a vegan option with a decent vegetable burger and affordable prices. However, some reviews mentioned soggy fries and subpar vegan options. On the seafood side, the fish and chips and clam chowder received mixed reviews, with some customers praising the dishes while others found them lacking. The menu was described as average overall, with the burger and poutine standing out as disappointments. Service was a major issue for some, with complaints about being forced to order food with drinks, communication barriers with the staff, and rude behavior from the waiter. Despite some negative experiences, many diners praised the fish and chips as a standout dish, complimenting the light crispy batter and perfectly cooked fish. The cozy diner atmosphere with retro-style counter seating was also appreciated. In conclusion, this restaurant seems to have some hits and misses, with the fish and chips being a must-try for seafood lovers.
