My friend and I gave this restaurant a try while walking down Dundas Street looking for a place to eat. There is a great variety of options in the menu and the food itself is good overall. The service was prompt and attentive, and the place was clean, modern, and spacious. It is quite pricey for a cheapster like me - almost $50 for three meals (without drinks) before tips. It wasn't particularly busy on the Saturday... read more. What User doesn't like about D and y Sushi:

Sushi was nice, service very pleasant. Portions could be a little more generous and use a little less mayo. OK, since LAN sushi closed, best sushi option in the Junction that we've found.
