with all the construction in montreal, my friend and i opted to try a recommendation from a friend in longueuil les dur a cuire. looked at the menu online, and knew exactly what type of wine i should bring. The terasse might need plants or a little warmth but the inside of the restaurant is nice. I ordered the lobster tortellini and my friend the crispy polenta, 2 amazing dishes, flavours and presentation. they only... read more. What User doesn't like about Dur a Cuire:

Very buzzing place, like eating inside a crowd of people continuously moving about to check in, out, toilets OMG.

The noise is 'brasserie' like to say the least. Food is way too salty... And seems to be consistently salty all the time. Appears to be nice for lunch, but for dinner count me out read more. If you crave for sweets, Dur a Cuire with its fine desserts can surely make an end of it, Also, the drinks menu at this place is exceptional and offers a significant and comprehensive assortment of both local and international beers, which are definitely worth a try.

In addition, they deliver you delectable dishes à la française, It's possible to chill out at the bar with a freshly tapped beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks.
