We stopped here after the Junction Night Market. A group of six of us got a few charcuterie platters, cheese platters, and pastas to share. The food was delicious. We also had a few drinks and those were tasty too. Service was good. Overall, the pastas were the highlight - delicate and scrumptious. read more. The restaurant also offers the possibility to sit outside and eat in pleasant weather. What User doesn't like about Bricco Kitchen and Wine Bar:

First time we dined here. The staff was very helpful and attentive. Atmosphere is okay but not too many diners there so it felt cavernous - it's a fairly big restaurant so didn't feel warm and cozy - a little utilitarian really. It's okay but just not really great. The pizza is nothing like pizzeria Libretto - I don't think they have a wood fired oven so it was kind of underdone soupy white pizza. The arugula salad... read more.
