We were on a walk through the eaton center and we decided to have a coffee at this cafe when we saw the different types of cake we were tempted and we asked for one of lemon and one of bananas, for me the best was the one of bananas is insurmountable. The place is clean, clear and well served. read more. The restaurant and its premises are wheelchair accessible and thus reachable with a wheelchair or physical disabilities. What

User doesn't like about Second Cup:

A chain store that can be found in Toronto. This place is near the North York Library, and it feels relative and comfortable than the city. It is very delicious that the frappuccino is similar to the ice cap of the team. We have a wide variety of sizes and big cookies. read more. A visit to Second Cup is particularly valuable due to the comprehensive diversity of coffee and tea specialties.
