What User likes about M'Zaar Restaurant: Options for Mediterranean food are not hard to find in downtown Toronto, and fall into either being cheaper and of poorer quality, or more expensive and of better quality. This is in the latter category, and a bit pricey compared to some alternatives nearby, but the quality is pretty good. We ended up spending about $40 for what would probably cost half that at another place nearby, though the food was good. read more. The place also offers the possibility to sit outside and eat and drink in pleasant weather. What User doesn't like about M'Zaar Restaurant: I placed an order here with Ritual. First they increased the time estimate for pick-up, and then claimed they never received my order. They then closed so I got no food despite being billed for it, no dinner for me. Oh and you think they bothered to even apologize for their error? Nope. FAIL. read more. M'Zaar Restaurant from Toronto is famous for its tasty burgers, to which aromatic fries, salads and other sides are provided, Customers often choose the scrumptious, fluffy flatbread, which is perfect for dipping into the homemade hummus or a creamy yogurt dip; the unusual connection of figs and goat cheese undeniably also belongs to the delicious bits of the multifaceted Middle Eastern cuisine. In addition, they offer you delectable meals à la française, With original Indian spices, menus are tasty and freshly prepared.
