I always like checking out the local cafe's, and Revel was another nice find. They have a great location, right across from the city hall square, and a large space. They have a back patio as well, but we sat inside. Had an americano and wife had a latte. We sat by the window at a small table and comfortable chairs. Worth the visit to try one of the locally owned coffee houses, will stop in again next time! read more. When the weather is pleasant you can also eat outside, and there is complimentary WLAN. The premises on site are accessible, and therefore no problem for clientele with wheelchairs or physiological disabilities. What User doesn't like about Revel Caffe: The person at the door was very unfriendly, almost barked at me when I tried to walk to the baked goods area to see what they had. This was my first time visiting and I had no idea I couldn't proceed further due to COVID protocols. There was only 1 other customer in the store. Needless to say I didn't bother buying anything other than the latte I ordered which was almost $7. read more.
