I've been to chef in a bun a few times over the last couple of summers. The Apple peanut butter bacon burger is my favorite. Not the healthiest choice and it lasted me two meals. They don't hold back. My husband and I occasionally get the snack sized mexican poutine for supper. We split it and have some left left over. Smaller portions and cheaper prices might be better but that's the only complaint that I would have... read more. The diner and its premises are wheelchair accessible and thus usable with a wheelchair or physical limitations, Depending on the weather conditions, you can also sit outside and have something. What User doesn't like about Chef in a Bun Franks & Burgers:

Went there for a late dinner and ordered 3 things, deep fried pickles, pogos and steak and cheese naan wrap. Came quickly, but the steak and naan wrap had many extra ingredients and toppings not included on menu or described by the server, which resulted in me just throwing it out. If you like food with lots of extras you weren't expecting this is the place...if you like to know what you're getting before you order,... read more.
