the victor was really delicious, and surprisingly bigger than expected. an order was really filled, especially because every piece is generously filled. the noodles are located on the bland side, but taste better with their chili oil (which is tasteful and spicy). the rolls tasted like those who can buy them from frozen. the staff was super friendly and nice! - I love this place. would order the storms all the time, fresh and frozen. Frozen batches recently had a meat problem (from autumn 2021). the meat is full of a kind of fat grill (see photo) and there is only something about the pork structure. this filling was so unrequired, I stopped eating/ordering. my friends also noticed a difference. lately, after trying another batch of frozen, I had high hopes that the pork filling quality was improved, but only 2/3 bags were of a better, satisfactory quality. I will post again when the flesh texture improves. hopefully, management will take this into account.
