The place from North York offers 44 different dishes and drinks on the menu at an average CA$11. What Lee Ann Ng likes about Cafe Las Americas:

A local, small, and homey restaurant. Visited with a friend on a weekend around dinner time – neither of us are Colombian nor speak any Spanish so we felt a touch out of place when we first arrived. However, the staff were very kind and made us feel welcomed which we greatly appreciated. We got some empanadas, the bandeja montañera paisa, and a red orange rice dish with seafood (that I forgot the name of). The bandej... read more.

What Tilly Díaz doesn't like about Cafe Las Americas:

I visited this place today and my experience was not the best. I ordered empanadas, chicharrón, chorizo, and coffee, but they didn't have even though ironically the restaurant is called Café las Americas, someone explain that to me. To be fair the empanadas are good however the chicharrón was miniature in size which doesn't justify the price, the chorizo was also very small, extremely salty and too greasy. I do not r...
