I am in Vancouver for a few months every summer. I've eaten at Panz Veggie when it was on Hornby Street, and now also at their new location at 3485 Fraser Street in Vancouver. The menu and standards are similar to before: clean and healthy and creative Asian vegetarian food at very reasonable prices. The menu is large and the food is of high quality and very fresh. It feels like home cooking. They are flexible regard... read more. The restaurant also offers the possibility to sit outside and have something in nice weather. What User doesn't like about Panz Veggie Restaurant:

...when it was in business last year lol. a lunch combo for under $10 in a nice, sit-down restaurant is remarkable.

Guess that's drove them out of biz, plus not much foot or office traffic for sure. gorgeous interior I recall, very Buddhist-like. With the extensive range of coffee and tea specialties, a visit to Panz Veggie Restaurant becomes even more attractive, there are also delicious vegetarian recipes in the menu. The Asian fusion cuisine is likewise an important part of Panz Veggie Restaurant. Anyone who finds the normal and generally known meals too boring can here approach with a willingness to experiment and try some exciting combination of ingredients eat, On the daily specials there are also several Asian dishes.
