I go at least once every two weeks, (or more). They are always accommodating to our dietary concerns!

Sometimes it can be crazy busy, especially at lunch! Maybe a second one in St. Albert? read more. The diner and its premises are wheelchair accessible and thus usable with a wheelchair or physiological limitations,

Depending on the weather conditions, you can also sit outside and be served. What User doesn't like about The Chopped Leaf:

Nothing fancy, but good choice for food on the run. There are a number of salad options available, or you can build your own. Gluten-free options are available. Overall, it was good and quite fast but not memorable. read more. The Chopped Leaf is renowned for its typical Canadian plates, which are prepared with ingredients typical of the country, Of course, you also have to try the fine burgers, that come with sides like fries, salads, or wedges offered. Even if you're only not so much hungry, you can still treat yourself to one of the tasty sandwiches, a small salad or another snack, there are also delectable vegetarian meals on the menu.
