Visited here on a Canadian road trip through Alberta and British Columbia. We're staying at the hotel property associated with this very nice restaurant with fine dining prices. I had a sandwich read more. The diner and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus reachable with a wheelchair or physical limitations, and there is no-charge WiFi. If the weather conditions are right, you can also eat outside. What User doesn't like about The Pines Restaurant:

Picturesque drive and lovely view of the lake. We ordered a la carte, Eggs Benedict and the Pine lodge Skillet. Soft poached eggs arrived hard boiled. Sunny side up eggs were served undercooked. Potatoes on both plates seriously undercooked. Bacon swimming in grease. How a professional chef can allow food like that to leave the Kitchen baffles me. Waitress was embarrassed at the quality. We left the food. Offered to... read more. The Pines Restaurant is famous for its traditional Canadian menus, made from typical country products, The visitors of the establishment also consider the extensive variety of various coffee and tea specialities that the establishment offers. When you're not so ravenous, you can just treat yourself to one of the scrumptious sandwiches, a small salad or another snack, You can take a break at the bar with a cool beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks.
