This is a small restaurant, so you may not get a spot. However we arrived about 6:30 on a Friday evening and got a table. Four of us ate here for dinner. We all enjoyed our selections. Each of us had between 3 - 4 varieties of sushi. The sushis were freshly made. You can see them being made just behind the counter. The place was doing a very steady table business and take out business. If you are looking for sush, yo... read more. When the weather conditions is good you can also eat and drink outside. What User doesn't like about Hosaka-Ya: Québec City has over 2500 restaurants and a very small number of sushi places call themselves Japanese but most if not all of them are not. Recently, the an authentic Japanese ramen place owned and operated by Japanese opened recently to great success. We wanted to go there by they were closed for vacations. So searched another place and ran into this small place. The place is small and seats 20 max approximately; th... read more. Traditional courses are prepared in the kitchen of Hosaka-Ya in Quebec City with original Asian spices delicious, Furthermore, the customers love the inventive combination of different meals with new and partially experimental ingredients - a good example of successful Asian Fusion. The restaurant also offers a balanced variety of flavorful tapas, which are surely worth a try, Particularly scrumptious are also the Maki and specialties like Te-Maki from this establishment.
