Cora purchased a small diner in Montreal's Saint Laurent district in May. After a few months, she revamped the menu to focus on breakfast. Incorporating fruit, cheese, cereal, omelettes, crepes, and French toast, Cora created a unique breakfast experience in Quebec. Drawing inspiration from family traditions, customer feedback, and creative ideas from her children, she crafted new breakfast options that align with the growing trend of healthy eating. Each dish was carefully reimagined and enhanced, leading to the creation of a hundred innovative breakfast choices. Each new creation was showcased with a vibrant illustration on the walls of the quaint CôteVertu diner. The menu imagery from the diner has now become the iconic signage adorning every Cora restaurant.
